Riviera Beach To Play Blue Devils

Looking for their first win in five starts, the Pahokee Blue Devils will entertain the grid squad from Riviera beach tonight on Lair Field in Pahokee with the kick-off scheduled for eight o'clock. Coach Pell has been putting his boys through some tough practice work since last Friday night's game in order to pick up a win on the local field tonight.

Last Friday night the locals traveled to Lake Worth to do battle with the Trojans on Russ Bullard field. They came out on the little end of the 12-0 score. Those who witnessed the game had many kind things to say about the Blue Devils in defeat.

Pahokee made a serious bid for a touchdown soon after the game got under way, but Lake Worth's defense stiffened and forced the Blue Devils back to the 20 after they had penetrated to the 11. They were threatening again at the end of the quarter.

John Pell, who had Pahokee passing more than running—he threw 26 times against 22 carries, and several of the latter were actually frustrated attempts to pass—had the Blue Devils just inside Lake Worth's 15-yard line with first and 10, but that was as far as they got.

Mental Clinic In Need More Space

County Commissioners Monday went house hunting in an effort to find quarters at International Airport for a new mental health clinic.

Dr. Lawrence Leviton appeared before the commission, asking that quarters be found large enough to accommodate a staff of five workers who expect to handle up to 300 clinic cases per month.

The commission learned that the only building offered the mental health group had already been committed to the State Road Department which is scheduled to move into the county Nov. 1 with a staff of 60 people who will be working on a road planning program.

The commission assured Dr. Leviton that it would locate suitable space for the clinic at the airport.

C. H. (Red) Hitchcock, Canal Point grocer, was beat and robbed of $800 about nine o'clock Sunday night and is in the Pahokee hospital suffering from a brain concussion. His condition is reported as on the mend.

He said he was struck as soon as he opened the front door of his house, after hearing a knock at the door. As he slumped down, Hitchcock said, he saw two men head back to his bedroom where his money box was located.

A brother, W. P. Hitchcock, said the grocer was improving but still weak from loss of blood.

She Came, She Saw She Conquered

Governor Farris Bryant says the visit to Florida last week of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson on her Lady Bird Special campaign train "was the adhesive by which the several solid segments of Florida's 1964 Democratic Campaign have been welded into a vehicle for victory at every level."

In a strong statement stressing party unity Bryant cited the "growth and greatness" of Florida resulting from years of state Democratic leadership and harmony between Florida and Washington Democrats. This teamwork approach, he said, has produced "that climate of government most conducive to growth and best able to meet the needs created by that growth."

Of Mrs. Johnson's Florida visit, the Governor said: "Those who seek to insinuate that the Democrats of Florida are not unified; that our ranks are split and that there is no harmony with Washington should have been with me aboard the Lady Bird Special last Thursday and Friday."

"The unity shown in Tallahassee Thursday night and the turnout at every stop in territory proclaimed by the opposition as their own shows clearly that Florida Democrats are not only united—but out working and working hard for the victory that shall be theirs."

"In Tallahassee a large banner held by a small group sought to advise Mrs. Johnson that she had come to Goldwater Country. If that be so, let it be noted that she came, she saw, and she conquered."

Commerce Body In Annual Dinner

Mrs. Duncan Padgett, secretary of the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce announced this week that final plans have been completed for the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner and installation of directors and officers.

Entertainment during the dinner will consist of a two piano solo by Mrs. Stanley Hooks and Miss Alice Hurt, a solo by Mrs. Hugh Branch and a flute solo by Mrs. R. L. Hutton. Guest speaker will be the well known television personality, Jack Faircloth.

Officers being installed for a one year term are: Bill Benton, president; Jack Spencer, vice president; and Charles Lewis, treasurer. Directors for a two year term will be Bill Moss, Bill Carroway, Marvin Crady and Charles Lewis. County Board Has A Brief Meeting

County Commissioners, who have been wading through some lengthy sessions in recent weeks, did a turn about Monday, whipping through a meeting in record time, even after going back to the 10:30 starting time.

The brief session ended about an hour after it started, in plenty of time for the board to catch the first inning of the World Series if they were so inclined.

Among the few actions taken were:

Authorization to make a $13,000 payment on the agreement for design and construction of a terminal complex at International Airport.

Authorized installation of a traffic signal at the intersection of Forest Hill Blvd. and Kirk Road. Approved a $1300 payment to the Central and South Florida Flood Control District, as the county's share of a U. S. Geological Survey study to evaluate the effectiveness of the flood control operation.

County Council To Meet Next Tuesday

The Palm Beach County Council of Parent - Teacher Associations will hold its first Council meeting of the 1964-65 fiscal year on October 20th, at its Headquarters, Building S-1138, Palm Beach International Airport, at 10 a. m. Delegates from local units all over the county will be requested to vote on the fiscal year's budget for 1964-65 and other important recommendations from the Board of Managers of the Council which vitally affect the children of Palm Beach County.

The program will feature an address by Rev. Jack Loadman, Juvenile Guidance Chairman of the Council, entitled "On Education or Being Educated." The address will deal with the problem of apathy among parents that leads to children often ending up in Juvenile Court or the need for guidance by the juvenile authorities of the County.

Registration of the delegates, who represent local units with a total membership in the county of over 14,000 parents, will begin at 9:30 a. m. and coffee will be served.

Sugar Harvest To Start Monday Week

With its many ups and downs the sugar harvest in the Lake Okeechobee Region will get under way this month and the huge mills will commence grinding the sweet stuff for market. One hurricane—Cleó—laid the cane flat throughout most of the growing area but warm sunshine and growing weather of a sort has helped to get it straightened up again to a degree.

U. S. Sugar Corporation's Clewiston area will start Monday, October 19 and the Eastern division at Bryant is scheduled to start one week later on Oct. 26. Glades Sugar House operations will get underway on Oct. 26, according to officials and Osceola will start on Nov. 2.

The labor situation has given sugar processing officials a severe headache this fall and a lot of red tape is necessarily having to be cut before this labor can arrive from offshore islands.

All of the men who cut cane this season will be men from the West Indies, most of them from Jamaica and Barbados, some from St. Lucie. However, a long road of regulations will have to be travelled before large jets airlift these men from their homelands to this country.

School Safety Is Topic At Local PTA

Leland Keene, driver education teacher at Pahokee High School presented the program "Safety in our Schools" to the Canal Point P. T. A. in their October meeting at the school.

In the business meeting a luncheon report was given which showed an increase in milk served and only a slight decrease in lunches served. It was reported by James Gifford that the Halloween carnival will be Oct. 31 with the food booth opening at 5:30 p. m. and the parade beginning at 6:30 p. m.

The room count award was given to Mrs. Charlotte Walston's fifth grade. Refreshments were served by mothers of the fifth grade students.

pays for itself!

It's no secret that electrified farm equipment increases production and lowers operating cost. Every day more and more of our farm and dairy customers save time, energy and money with the flip of a switch. Reddy Kilowatt cuts costly time-consuming hours. He's a helping hand ... milking cows, grinding feed, pumping water—doing scores of chores quickly, efficiently, automatically ... and cheaper, too.

Now, Cheaper Than Ever to GO ALL ELECTRIC!...than to use it in combination with flame-type fuels. The recent $10 million rate reduction (fourth major price cut in 10 years) makes Sunshine Service Electricity a better buy than ever before.

SENIORITY:

The influence and power of an individual Senator are largely determined by the SENIORITY he has attained. Without adequate seniority he has little ground to hope for assignment to important committees. Without seniority his influence in the Senate is greatly limited.

Holland Ranks 12th

in the order of Seniority in the Democratic membership of the Senate. His influence, experience and powerful voice have gained him membership on the powerful Committees of Appropriations, Agriculture and Forestry, and Aeronautical and Space Sciences, all of which are of particular importance to Florida and to you as one of its citizens.

The World on Your Doorstep...

You take it for granted, yet anticipate its arrival and fret if it's late. Its contents inform you, make you happy and thoughtful. Day in, day out your newspaper brings the world of news to your doorstep.

October 11 to 17 is National Newspaper Week. And we are happy to join others across the nation in saluting the men and women of the newspaper profession who work so diligently to inform and entertain us.

Southern Bell
... Serving You

My friend Governor Henry Bellmon of Oklahoma also writes a weekly newspaper column for the citizens of his state. One of his columns especially caught my eye because it seems to match my thinking so well about some of the duties of a Governor. I would like to share these thoughts with you.

"Sometimes in the wild rush of events which revolve around the Governor's Office, the question comes to mind, 'What good is a governor, anyway?' While there is still a great deal to learn about this job, and while I expect to go on learning clear up 'till the day my term is over, there are some conclusions I would like to pass on.

"A Governor is good for settling arguments which apparently can't be decided any place else. The buck passing stops here.

"A Governor is good for proposing changes which need to be made. Once the program is launched, it is frequently amended and changed by the Legislature, state agencies, and public opinion, but someone has to get the ball rolling. Under our system, the Governor is one place to start.

"A Governor is good for helping to build the public image of his state. Wherever he appears and whatever he says gives observers an idea about the people he represents.

"A Governor is good for establishing a policy which other agencies and officials can follow. If a Governor is careless, cantankerous, and crooked, other officials are apt to be inclined the same way. But if the Governor works for harmony, economy, and progress, others tend to follow his lead.

"A Governor is good for recruiting new industry, since doors which are often closed to private citizens or to other state officials quickly open when the Governor calls.

"A Governor is good for setting the pattern in dividing up money which is available for state services. True, no Governor's budget ever goes through the Legislature without amendment, but the Governor, more than anyone else, is in position to look at the entire picture of state services, and definitely exerts an influence on where emphasis is placed.

"A Governor is good as a listening post for citizens who feel oppressed and who have failed to get relief from other agencies.

"A Governor is good as a source of information about his state. Any citizen anywhere, who has a question to ask, generally feels free to direct his inquiry to the Governor's Office.

"A Governor is good for establishing lines of communication. He is more accessible than state officials who are appointed or hired, since those who vote in the election feel a kinship to the chief executive which they do not feel toward others.

"A Governor is good for looking ahead to plan the progress and development of his state. Many other agencies see a part of the picture, but it remains for the chief executive to look at all the pieces and attempt to fit them together in order to bring about the most good for the most citizens.

"A Governor is good for looking ahead to plan the progress and development of his state. Many other agencies see a part of the picture, but it remains for the chief executive to look at all the pieces and attempt to fit them together in order to bring about the most good for the most citizens.

"A Governor is good for eliminating the bad apples when they appear. In an organization as large as state government, bad actors are sure to turn up occasionally. When they do, it is often up to the Governor to swing the axe.

"Early in the history of our country one of our states decided to eliminate the executive branch of government entirely and run its affairs through the legislative and judiciary branches. It didn't work. Too many cooks spoiled the broth.

"So whether or not they are always right, apparently Governors are necessary."

Stork Shower For Mrs. John Bacon

If you are over 65, facing medical expense and can't pay for it... it's yours for the asking, already provided for by law. The Kerr-Mills Act offers a Health Opportunity Program for the Elderly with the federal and state governments sharing the cost.

In most states this care is far, far greater than that offered by Medicare proposals... and no additional tax is necessary!

Newspaper Ads To Publicize Citrus Crop

LAKELAND — The Florida Citrus Commission will spend $150,000 this fall in newspaper advertising to herald the arrival of the new season's first fresh citrus crop.

The commission's entire schedule of advertising the announcement of the new crop will be carried through 37 daily newspapers in the larger fresh fruit markets, according to Commission General Manager Homer H. Hooks.

The ads, which will be supported by commercials on network television, will begin in late October with promotions for fresh grapefruit. The announcements for fresh oranges will begin sometime after the middle of November.

Hooks pointed out that the commission had decided to move the fresh citrus announcement ads into newspapers because of the exceptional flexibility provided by this news media. "This flexibility enables the commission to pinpoint the fresh fruit message at exactly the right moment for the greatest impact in the markets. A newspaper schedule of advertising permits us to postpone, delay or step up our own schedule within a 72-hour period", Hooks explained.

Fish Finder Is Now Available

Now you can call the fish to your exact fishing spot with a new patented and tested electronic transistorized Fish Call.

Ichthyologists have known for some time that fish respond to sonic oscillations (sound) between 50 and 300 cycles, and to light waves. Both have been combined in this compact unit.

The sound waves, though only moderately audible to the human ear, travel some 200-300 yards through the water and attract the fish directly to the source. From then on it is up to the skill of the fisherman to get the fish to bite. (The TR-Sonic Fish Call does not give a fisherman unfair advantage of a fish any more than buck call gives a poor shot any advantage.)

The dial allows selection of five different variants of sound waves. In addition to the sound selection, the unit is also capable of producing light waves for maximum attraction of all species of fish. Retail price $14.95.

Veterans Service Announces Benefits

L. V. McClelland, Local Veterans Service Officer announces that the Veterans Administration have opened the doors for GI Education benefits to children of National Guardsmen and Army Reservists who die as a result of line of duty conditions and annual field training or army drill.

V. A. General Council, Robert C. Fable, Jr., said V. A. Regulations are being re-written so that children of Civilian Soldiers who die as a result of peace time summer camp or drill training are eligible for war orphans Educational assistance at benefits.

"The Junior GI Bill" entitles service orphans to a subsistence allowance of up to $10.00 Monthly for 36 Months. Subsistence would be lower for part time training. The ruling was issued at the request of Maj. Gen. Winston Wilson, Chief National Guard Bureau. It dealt solely with guard eligibility. However, A check with the V. A. Indicates the ruling also applies to reservists of the various services McClelland said.

Civilian Soldier deaths during the induction period fall under the same basic eligibility requirements for war orphans aid as deaths from a disability arising out of active military naval or air service. The "Junior GI Bill" program was opened to children of reservists in 1960. The old program was limited to children of veterans who died from war time service. Public Law 86-785 extended benefits to children of servicemen who were killed during the induction period in the performance of military duty. The induction period includes service since Jan. 31st, 1955 as a result of the 1960 change. The guard bureau, McClelland said, launched a study to determine whether children of Guardsmen were also eligible for war orphans assistance. Fable agreed they were if the sponsor's death is a result of an injury or disease incurred during annual field training. Also covered are line of duty deaths resulting from an Armory Drill Injury.
